APR = Annual Percentage Rate

Promotional rates are valid between January 14, 2022, through April 30, 2022. To the extent your payments exceed the minimum payment due each billing period, we will apply them to balances with high APRs prior to balances with low APRs. The promotional APR will remain in effect through your April 2023 credit card billing cycle. New purchases and cash advances will carry your credit-qualifying rate.
